The main program areas proposed for action are concerned with: (i) enabling activities concerning Biodiversity and Climate Change and (ii) preferential projects in the four focal areas that will be available for Council consideration in 1995 and that meet the standards elaborated upon in the document for urgency, country support, demonstration and innovation, or pilot phase continuity.

15. The Council is invited to review and approve the proposed guidance to be followed in developing project activities in 1995 and the suggested funding ranges.

In reviewing this document, the Council should take into account that many of the other documents prepared for the meeting make reference to recommendations of the Independent Evaluation and propose steps specifically designed to respond to those recommendations (for example, the proposed project cycle). The Council is invited to review and comment upon the document.
