GEF CSO Consultations on Youth led Advocacy and Solutions

Friday December 3, 2021
7:00 AM- 10:30 AM EST

The GEF partnership recognize the important role that civil society and youth play advocating and delivering on local, national and global development and environmental commitments and agendas.

In this event, youth and youth-led civil society and indigenous peoples and local community organizations will share their solutions, priorities and ideas related to the GEF mission and its increased ambition for GEF-8 and beyond. The consultation will provide opportunities for the GEF CEO, GEF Council, GEF CSO Network and other GEF Partners to learn from youth and to engage in a conversation with youth on how the GEF partnership can better support their important role advocating, influencing and delivering on sustainable development and environmental goals and commitments moving forward.

The consultation will showcase young environmental innovators and advocates from across the world. It is envisaged to be an interactive event and if you are an interested member of the GEF Partnership, please register in the link below. We particularly hope that many youth and youth-led civil society organizations are able to join us.
