WHAT IS GEF KALEO¹?

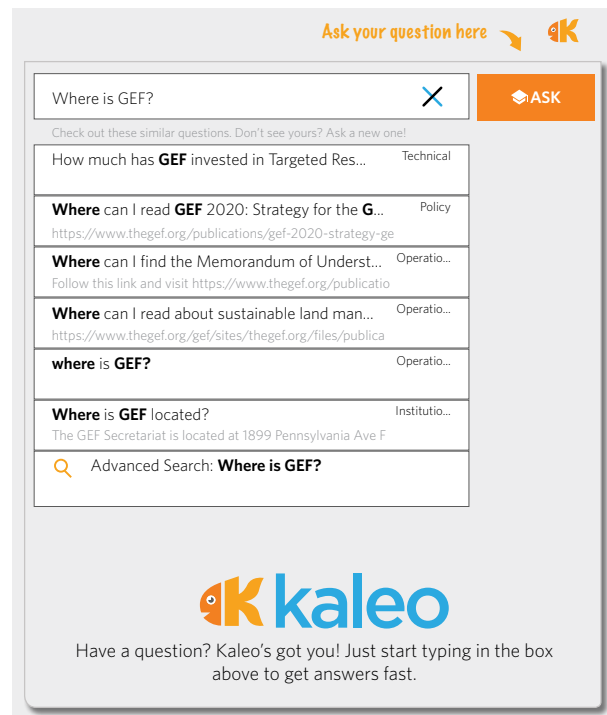

GEF Kaleo is an online knowledge sharing system that is powered by machine learning. It was built to provide a self-serve “question and answer” platform to service GEF partners and stakeholders across the globe. With GEF Kaleo, information is easy to discover and use. The knowledge in GEF Kaleo can be accessed 24/7 anywhere and whenever GEF partners need it. GEF Kaleo sits inside the GEF’s webpage and is accessible online via computers, tablets, or mobile devices. GEF Kaleo is a living knowledge-base that continues to grow as questions are asked and answered.

HOW DOES GEF KALEO WORK?

GEF Kaleo responds to common questions about the GEF by providing reliable answers that are vetted by GEF experts and updated on a regular basis. Topics such as GEF policies and procedures are comprehensively covered in a way that is fast, bite-sized, and accurate. Using GEF Kaleo is faster than alternative methods, such as making multiple calls or inquiries, and the platform is accessible at any time, eliminating the need to manage time zones.

¹ Kaleo is a predictive knowledge sharing software, developed by Kaleo, Inc. “Kaleo” is a Hawaiian word that means “one voice”. It is meant to encompass the knowledge of the entire community.

ASK THE EXPERT

When a question is asked, GEF Kaleo responds back by listing curated answers to similar questions. Answers can contain text, links to documents, videos, photos, commentary, etc. If no answer is found in the existing GEF Kaleo Knowledge Base, the system routes the question to a GEF “expert” who can answer it. The user receives the expert’s response via email. The answer is then added to the GEF Kaleo Knowledge-base and becomes available for other users who submit a similar question. In this way, users assist in expanding the GEF Kaleo Knowledgebase.
